Why I chose to re-make Orpington FC?

- Its my Local Team
- My friend plays for them
- I'm a football fan myself but didn't think the team I supported (crystal palace) was a bad website to start with.
- It's a club that works with my old school and plays a big part in my community.

The challenge it currently faces

- On my website, I currently face the challenge of adding content. It being a football website, there is a lot of content that I can add. Most, or at least the relevant parts have been added.
- Getting details from the client as the majority of the site was done using ACF.

Why am I working on this?

- At the beginning of the unit, I thought that I would pick a local company with a bad website so that if the project went well then I could go to them and put my name out there as a web developer.

Opportunity?

- With the site that I have made, I can see space for improvement and once this has been done I would be rather tempted to send it to Orpington Football Club to see what they think of it.

What I learnt and enjoyed...

- I learnt a lot, especially in the last few weeks when I realized how big my website was and how much needed doing. I know now to keep better time management. I enjoyed the coding when it worked, the best feeling in the world when you spend 3 hours working on one little bit of code and then suddenly you realize what you missed.
